

courierpress.com - Printer-friendly story

Area schools receive 'Healthy Hoosier' honors

By Staff Reports

Originally published 11:08 a.m., May 20, 2009

Updated 11:08 a.m., May 20, 2009

Several area schools were among 92 honored by Indiana Action for Healthy Kids as 2008-09 Healthy Hoosier School Award winners.

Schools are chosen based on their nutrition efforts and physical activity programs.

Plaza Park Middle School in Evansville was one of the state's six gold level winners.

Silver level winners included Reitz and North high schools, Helfrich Park Middle School and Caze, Dexter, Fairlawn, Hebron and Highland elementary schools in Evansville; and William Tell Elementary School in Tell City.

Bronze level winners included Harrison High School, Evans Middle School and Delaware Elementary School in Evansville; and Perry Central Elementary School in Leopold.

An honorable mention winner was St. Philip School in Posey County.

— John Martin

© 2009 Scripps Newspaper Group — Online